Tell the World

Self-disclosure, telling people about who you are, is a way of establishing your presence in the world. What is something about yourself that you want everyone to know? Write it on the the billboard and draw an accompany image. You could also paste in a photo or image from a magazine on your personal billboard.